"POCKET PULSE"—WHAT COL. HOLT THINKS ON THE SUBJECT.

Col. Thomas M. Holt came to Raleigh yesterday to attend to some business matters connected with the North Carolina railroad. He desires us to express in unmistakable terms his disapproval of the allusion made to him in the last sentence of the communication which appeared in the News of yesterday entitled "Pocket Pulse," and signed "non tax payer."

It is well known that Col. Holt is one of the largest tax-payers of the State and that he has always favored the most liberal business-like policy in dealing with all monetary questions affecting the interests, credit and honor of North Carolina. So far as relates to the sale of the Western North Carolina railroad, he was one of its earliest and strongest advocates for the reason that he saw therein the early completion of the road from Asheville to Paint Rock and Ducktown without further burdening the taxpayers of the State. "Tom Holt at the head of State affairs" would attend to the public business as he has to his own, but he does not seek political elevation by pandering to the weaknesses and prejudices of a few "non-tax-payers" who for years have opposed every measure calculated to advance the material interests of his native State.

WHAT M. DELESSES REALLY EXPECTS.

M. de Lesseps knows perfectly well what he is doing. He is not a veteran diplomatist and financier for nothing. He has studied men and affairs too long and closely to be misled in judging what American sentiment is really worth in dollars for his Panama canal. He does not for a moment confound good dinners and cordial wishes with subscriptions. If he had intended after the decided rebuff last year in New York—to put his canal shares on this market for another trial, that design would be abandoned now. But M. de Lesseps has probably cherished no such intention since the complete failure of the original experiment. His draft of a circular addressed to the American public and promulgated on his arrival in New York from Panama, probably provides for the emergency.

He puts off any statement of his plans but no dependence whatever on American subscriptions. Hesitantly announces that "in order to avoid all delays in the execution of the work, &c., the Universal Company of the Isthmian Canal will open its operations with that part of the capital that will be subscribed in Europe." If Americans choose to subscribe, well and good. They will have a reasonable time in which to take up not more than one-half of the capital stock, failing in which they will see it slip through their fingers to Europe. It is very evident from the significant language of the circular as well as the tone of the great engineer's speech made in New York, that he will not be disappointed if Americans decline for a second time to invest in an undertaking which has no subsidy or guaranty or countenance from their Government, and which does not allure them with the same reasonable promise of steady and sure returns which are held out by other enterprises. But his visit to the United States will still not be in vain. The receptions and the dinners and all the attentions which he receives will still be serviceable to him.

He will make friends among the American people wherever he goes, disarming them of the hostility or jealousy they have felt toward the Panama scheme, since what seemed to them a prejudiced and unfair decision was rendered by the Paris Congress in favor of that route. On the good will or toleration of citizens of the United States, thus secured, and not on their material aid, M. de Lesseps now relies, and probably he will be satisfied with that result. For the funds he will look to France, where alone they will be subscribed with anything like alacrity under the present adverse circumstances, which not even the fame of his achievements or the charm of his manner and the modesty of his words can make conspicuous in the United States.

If John Sherman wants any delegates he will have to increase the reward. Old man Tempus is a fugitive.

A TELEGRAM from Scotland Neck to Halifax it will be gut up. It will be a great convenience, especially court weeks.

ANOTHER railroad movement is on foot. We learn that the Wimington & Weldon Railroad has bought the Petersburg & Weldon Railroad.

IN COUNT DE LESSEPS came into this part of the world to get some good dinners and learn with what velocity the American chin can be moved on decisions, he must already consider his mission a tremendous success.

HON. W. H. KITCHIN is out in a letter in the Stateville Landmark in favor of a sale of the "Mud-cut" Railroad. He says the Ducktown branch is not only an elephant, but "an elephant and a tiger."

KEARNEY has been as disastrous to business interests in San Francisco as a commercial panic, and the laboring classes are among the greatest sufferers. Men who have capital are afraid to invest it, and the result is that improvements of all kinds have stopped and the mechanics thrown out of work. Not a few citizens of means have moved away, and some have transferred their business to other cities. There is, perhaps not another government in existence where a man like Kearney would be tolerated.

The Exodus and North Carolina. Winston Post.

Indirectly, the Exodus is likely to be benefit for North Carolina. The investigation by Mr. Voorhees' committee proves that San and the people in a most favorable light. There are few States in any section that are so creditably bear such a thorough overhauling.

A Dead Thing.
Atlanta Constitution.

The surest hope of the Democrats consists in the nomination of Grant; for against him and his party, of course, can be voted out of the office by the overwhelming law of the republic. But there is a great and growing danger that the machine politicians who are working up the Grant business with a view to power and perquisites, will discover that there is no man left to whom they can and after Grant, and will then throw him overboard. The preliminary Republican campaign of 1876 is about, we fear, to repeat itself.

Index to New Advertisements.

SALEM AGRICULTURAL WORKS—Machinery.
F. B. HILL—Groceries.

SIDEWALK NOTES.

—Abate
—The cow
—Nuisance, or
—Step down and out
—And make room for another
—Board of Aldermen who will!
—Don't fail to attend church to-day. Seats all free.
—Lots of countrymen in town yesterday, and business seemed good.
—Messrs. Avery, Freeman & Creech, who have been north purchasing goods, have returned.

—The New York Herald fund for the relief of the Irish sufferers, now amounts to nearly $300,000.

—Mr. June Mullin, the policeman who was injured some time since being thrown from a horse, is able to be out again.

Services at the chapel of the D. and D. Inst. ton to day at 11 a. m., by the pastor, Rev. John S. Watkins, Sabbath School at 9:30 a. m.

—Union prayer meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, in the room of the Association in the Holloman building. Services 45 minutes.

—Persons desiring to attend the Penitentiary Sabbath School must procure tickets of admission from one of the officers or teachers of the school, as there will be no tickets admitted without such ticket. No one will be admitted after half past two o'clock, when the exercises of the school commence.

—We notice that Messrs. Yeargan, Petty & Co. are giving their front a handsome brown stone shade, which is quite an improvement. There has been no name on the front of their store for some time, and when their name was placed on it, the next reply was: "A. T. Stewart & Co. never had any name on any building they occupied, and for the same reason Yeargan, Petty & Co. did not need to have, as the people found them out, because they could buy goods cheaper there, and every month for the past twelve shows a steady increase, especially in their wholesale trade."

—Regular meeting of William G. Hill Lodge, No. 218 to-morrow night at 7:30 o'clock.

—Popular. The ladies want it; the men say they shall have it! What! The abatement of the cow nuisance, of course.

—Jail Bird. Only one new arrival at the hotel D'Nowell yesterday. George Overby was committed for 30 days as a vagrant.

—Police Court. His Honor, the Mayor, yesterday consigned three vagrants to the workhouse and sheltered a number of drunks for 12 hours.

—Trying to "Buy It." The Pittsburgh Record says: "They are trying to crack the Sherman line in North Carolina. The Republicans of the Raleigh district have just appointed Grant delegates to Chicago."

—Justice's Court. Justice Barber yesterday had Joe Honeycutt before him, charged with bastardy. Properly disposed of.

—Ho also issued warrants in a couple of cases. One for trespass and another for real property.

—Unmailable Matter. Mr. L. Leach, Leachburg via. Raleigh, is the way a letter is addressed at this post office with a one cent stamp thereon.

—Miss M. L. T. Brown, Littleton, also has a package held for insufficient postage.

—Touree's Digest. One of the most successful Law Books ever published in this State is "Touree's Digest of Cited Cases," and every lawyer who uses it says that he could do no without the book. Price $12.00. Alfred Williams & Co., Publishers.

—Divine Services To-Day. Regular services will be held at the following churches to-day: Salisbury Street Baptist at 11 a. m., and 7:30 p. m., by Rev. Dr. Skinner, pastor; First Presbyterian at 11 a. m., and 7:30 p. m., by Rev. Dr. S. Watkins, pastor; Second Presbyterian at 11 a. m.—no services in the afternoon, as the pastor preaches in the afternoon, at the time the services are at the Insane Asylum.

—In Favor of the State. All the city papers are in favor of the sale of the cows. Who bids?

—The citizens of this city to be harassed forever by these pests? Four thousand property owners, non-owning residents, and traveling sojourners demand that the cow nuisance be abolished. Perhaps their appeals now will be disregarded, but they will be heard in the "long run."

—"B-Select" If You Will Select. Attention is called to the new advertisement of F. B. Hill, the popular young grocery merchant on the corner of Hargett and Moore streets, who keeps select groceries of all good and standard grades, and sells on a very close margin. He makes a specialty of B-Select Whisky. Call and see him.

—An Independent Mail Carrier. The mail from Pittsboro has missed every day for the past week, we were informed, by the mail carrier. The carrier, when questioned about the matter, replied that he had prepared a time-table of his own. It is about time the department at Washington had prepared a shelf for him.

—See Here! The tools are not all dead yet. There are a few left in the stores of this city, addressed to parties North, with only a one cent stamp on them, and—ceased. Some people may think that if they don't seal a written letter they will only have to pay one cent postage; and that is so—but the post office will not let the letter be addressed to pay double the amount of due postage, viz: 5 cents on each letter. All kinds of written matter requires three cents postage. Sealed or unsealed. Remember this, for we have been victims to this five cent business in a great many instances of late and know how it feels.

Supreme Court.

Court opened at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. All the Justices were present.

Appeals from the Ninth Judicial District were called and disposed of as follows:

A. H. Sudduth vs. McCombs & Sudduth, from Cherokee; set for hearing at the end of the district.

State vs. Joseph Waits, from Haywood, argued by Attorney General Kenan for the State; no counsel for the defendant.

State vs. Lucas Brown, from Graham; argued by Attorney General Kenan for the State; no counsel for the defendant.

State vs. John Norton, from Madison; argued by Attorney General Kenan for the State; no counsel for the defendant.

State vs. Leakey Shepherd, from Madison, set for hearing at the end of the district.

State vs. John Hooper, from Jackson; argued by Attorney General Kenan for the State; no counsel for the defendant.

State vs. Keeter & Corn, from Henderson; set for hearing at the end of the district.

State vs. J. F. Clagle, from Macon; set for hearing at the end of the district.

H. V. Cunningham vs. E. W. Bell, from Macon; set for hearing at the end of the district.

A. G. Jackson vs. S. L. and R. G. A. Love, from Haywood; set for hearing at the end of the district.

M. J. Ferguson et al. vs. Isaac Allman et al., from Madison; set for hearing at the end of the district.

A. D. McManam vs. W. D. Miller, from Transylvania; argued by J. H. Merriman for the defendant; no counsel for the defendant.

W. H. Weaver vs. D. M. Jones, from Henderson; set for hearing at the end of the district.

McWilliam Young vs. J. O. Grifith et al., from Madison; set for hearing at the end of the district.

Western North Carolina Railroad Company vs. W. W. W. Robins, from Brevard; two cases argued by Battle & Moreland and W. H. Malone for the plaintiff, and J. H. Merriman for the defendant.

W. H. Weaver vs. D. M. Jones, from Henderson; set for hearing at the end of the district.
